Thank you for the wonderful journey for the last 2 ½ years.

I leave you with this quote:

“You tell me what is nobler what is loftier what is a higher purpose in life – than devoting yourself to establishing and developing a community of believers that strives to fulfil the Acts 2 description of the bride of Christ? To creating a supportive and encouraging place where spirit led preaching brings a new God focused direction to people’s lives – where believers gather in small groups to share their hearts on the deepest of levels; where people compassionately walk with each other through life’s problems and pain; where everyone feels empowered to make a difference through their spiritual gifts - where prayer, worship and the sacraments are lifted up; where the rich share their God given resources with the poor; and where people ache so much for their irreligious friends that the Church gets strategic and takes risk to reach out to them with the gospel.”
